

Courtyard Lots Available

For those who like the concept of association living, but cannot get excited about the sameness of most townhouse offerings, you may want to see if a courtyard lot would fit your needs. In this region, each home is designed to incorporate an indoor-outdoor lifestyle of courtyards and generous windows applying principles from the Prairie style of architecture. Whether your desire is to build your dream home or purchase one of our existing neighborhood homes currently on the market, we'd be happy to provide you with precisely the information you need.
